

Trayce Bradford's Bio

Trayce is first of all a Christian – a strong believer in Jesus, a wife of twenty-eight years to her husband Scott, mother of seven beautiful children from ages eight to twenty-seven, and a faithful citizen of the country she loves - the United States of America.

Trayce was given the reins of Texas Eagle Forum as President at the beginning of 2016 but previously served as president of the Dallas Eagle Forum for four years. Additionally, she founded the Tarrant County Eagle Forum group in 2012.

Trayce is passionate about biblical truth, the value of self-government, the preservation of life, and our freedoms mandated by the Constitution. Trayce has been recognized nationally and was presented the Texas Eagle award by Phyllis Schlafly, the founder of the national Eagle Forum.

During her time as president with Dallas and Tarrant County Eagle Forum, Trayce hosted a Texas Senatorial Forum that included six candidates and educated its members on critical subjects such as ALAC, pro-life issues and the need for future security of our Texas Grid - to name a few. Dallas Eagle Forum also hosted several, nationally recognized subject matter experts including Curtis Bower, Frank Gaffney, William Federer, and General Jerry Boykin during Trayce's tenure.

Preparing for the 2013 and 2015 Texas legislative sessions, Trayce actively campaigned and developed relationships with many members of the Texas Senate and House. As the new president of Texas Eagle Forum, Trayce will continue to coordinate efforts and recruit resources to drive legislation on those issues that are pro-life, pro-family and pro-liberty – building relationships and coalitions to see policy initiatives progress.

Prior to her active involvement in government and politics, Trayce led several prayer teams, most notably she was the Dallas Prayer Coordinator for Promise Keepers for ten years. She continues to lead and participate in intercessory prayer teams for our country, political leaders and pastors.

As a graduate of Texas A&M, Trayce earned a Marketing Degree leveraging those skills to influence her children and friends to get involved and make a difference in this world. Currently, she home schools her three youngest children, ages eight to eighteen, and has graduated her four oldest children, ages twenty to twenty-seven.
