The Grand Master

By David Lawrence, Canada Free Press, 3/7/16

Gary Kasparov is a genius at chess. Bernie Sanders is a dimwit who watches maple syrup drip from the trees in Vermont.

When I was a college student I milked some cows in Jay Peak, Vermont. Bernie Sanders milks the public in an attempt to put their votes in his clichéd pail.

Kasparov says that he is getting a kick out of Sanders lecturing him on the beauties of Socialism. He says that Sanders knows nothing about socialism and the meaning of a form of government he never lived under.

Kasparov knows Socialism for the form of government that it is and how instead of achieving income inequality it lowers everyone to the least common denominator.

Kasparov says that Socialism looks good on Facebook but in reality it has failed for every country throughout the world.

Look at communistic failure in Russia, China, Cambodia, Vietnam, Nicaragua, Columbia, etc. The only socialist country that had a good reputation was Sweden. But now they've let so many Muslims in that rape is prevalent.

Kasparov says that Socialism corrodes the economy and the human spirit itself. When wealth is based on government dictates rather than achievement, we end up with a failed society.

Now multi-millionaire Hillary Clinton has decided to lean left. She is leaning left for her middle class followers, not herself. She is on the right sitting on a mountain of money.

Socialism hides behind generosity but it is based on taking from others. Capitalism has brought far more people out of poverty than Socialism.

Socialism is a false form of government that pretends it will support the people while it takes from them. Socialism is a robber dressed as a policeman.

Kasparov says that income inequality is a huge problem. But Socialism is no solution. It results in predominant failure.

More government is not the answer. It has always failed. Socialist governments checkmate themselves. Failure is a result of false generosity.

America was founded as a country built upon free enterprise. Hillary and Sanders don't understand America and have no right to push it towards socialism.

NOTE: In a column in The Dallas Morning News (3/7/16), Will Deener writes:

“A recent poll in The Washington Post said that 43 percent of those younger than 30 viewed socialism in a positive light, compared with 32 percent who viewed capitalism positively. The percentage of blacks, Hispanics and the poor inclined toward a negative view of capitalism were even higher.

“I understand the brand of socialism espoused by Sanders is as comforting as a mother's warm embrace—protective, humane and loving—but history is replete with socialistic economies gone haywire.

“Venezuela is the poster child for failed socialism. For years, the government wrapped caring arms around its people, providing lots of free stuff. But it failed in the one thing that really mattered—toilet paper. That's right. The government has never solved the riddle of how to efficiently allocate Charmin to the masses, meaning Venezuela has fallen short of a socialistic utopia.

”Socialistic thinkers target Wall Street, big corporations and wealthy practitioners of free enterprise as natural enemies. But history is replete with massive government bureaucracies evolving into corrupt, intrusive arbiters of our lives.”

As Margaret Thatcher once said, “The problem with socialism is that you eventually run out of other people's money.”

WHAT YOU CAN DO: Please share this information with those who are supporting self-professed Socialist Bernie Sanders, especially college-aged kids, who have fallen for socialism's trap of “free stuff” (free college tuition, free healthcare, etc.) in return for cradle-to-grave government control of their lives.

Wake Up, America

The 65th annual National Day of Prayer, May 5, 2016, will have profound significance for our country. It is an unprecedented opportunity to see the Lord's healing and renewing power made manifest as we call on citizens to humbly come before His throne.

Our theme for 2016 is Wake Up America, emphasizing the need for individuals, corporately and individually, to return to the God of Fathers in reverence for His Holy Name. To further highlight our theme, we've chosen Isaiah 58:1a as our Scripture for this year: “Shout it aloud, do not hold back. Raise your voice like a trumpet.”

For the May 5th observances, Dr. Tony Evans, the 2016 Honorary Chairman, wrote a special prayer to be simultaneously read throughout the nation at noon (ET). This recitation will create a huge wave of prayer, flowing from one coast to the other, illustrating the unity of God's people and acknowledging His dominion over the circumstances facing us. Millions of people will gather to pray at thousands of events facilitated by our volunteer coordinators and people just like you! We hope you'll join with our staff again as we seek to bring more communities than ever before together in prayer. As a way of assisting you, we have assembled a variety of resources that equip you to organize and publicize prayer gatherings, citywide prayer breakfasts, worship services, and rallies. These materials also present creative ideas geared toward helping individuals and families to establish meaningful devotional times. If you have any questions after reviewing these items, please don't hesitate to contact our NDP staff at (800) 444-8828. We would count it a privilege to lend a hand in whatever manner we are able.

At this crucial time for our nation, we can do nothing more important than pray. Thank you in advance for making this spiritual discipline a personal priority and for standing with us as we encourage others to incorporate prayer in their lives. The Lord has graciously anointed our efforts, empowering them to touch and change many hearts and lives. We look forward to seeing His hand move across our land in exciting ways each May in response to our petitions! In closing, we ask that you prayerfully consider becoming a volunteer in your church or community to lead a National Day of Prayer gathering. May the Lord's peace fill your heart as you rest in Him throughout the days ahead.

The Creepy Cookie Corrupting Our Children

Condensed from an article by Linda Harvey,
Mission: America Founder, 3/1/16

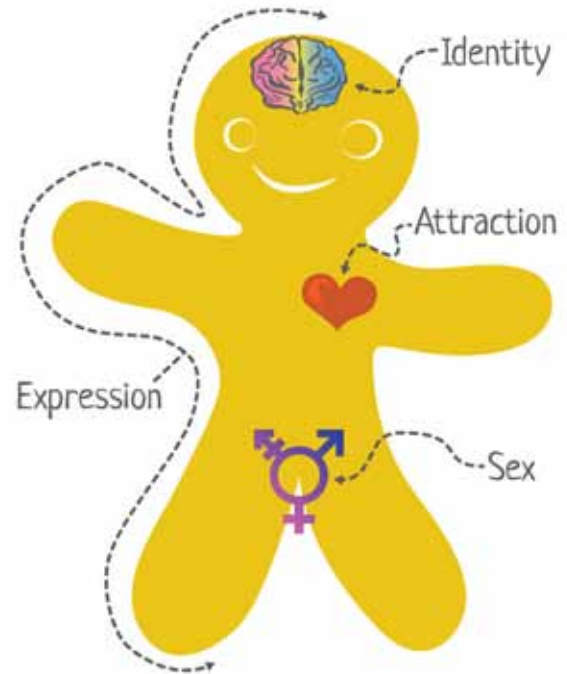

Can a cookie go to jail? It's high time we demanded a criminal indictment of the "Genderbread Person"—and the con man claiming to be its creator. Because it's one more high-risk, loony idea leading to gender confusion and being unleashed everywhere on children.

The "Genderbread Person" started as a flyer depicting a gingerbread cookie person in its asexual familiarity, but grossly distorted to draw little children to an insane idea: that you really aren't a girl or a boy. And it's always presented—ready for a good laugh?—as part of "anti-bullying" programs.

According to these false trainers, "Gender Identity" refers to a person's internal sense of being male, female, or something else, with an unlimited number of sexual (gender) identities—sexual fluidity. No, gender is not fluid. The only thing fluid is their language with countless manufactured terms.

And yet, "Genderbread" workshops are increasingly popular. Minneapolis' Anoka-Hennepin school district just instructed teachers to stop calling children males and females. And the local media are gushing with support for this hideous anti-child assault.

It's not just Minneapolis, but it is also happening in Oregon schools. Reportedly, pediatric nurses in Seattle have been subjected to the same training. In fact, the "LGBT" agenda now permeates many children's hospitals.

calling a girl a girl, she might kill herself? Where such fragile and deeply troubled children exist (a tiny fraction), they are in need of psychiatric help, not the affirmation of lies.

Confused children need security, not more confusion and early sexualization. The "Genderbread" training goes beyond inserting fables into a child's head. The flyer neatly introduces grade-school children to the idea of genital pleasure, too. The diagram points to "gender fluid" icons located at the genital area of the cookie with the word "sex" as the explanation.

Will an 8-year-old be confused? Of course! That's the entire point—shake up their little hetero-normative lives and those of their smug parents. Assault the foundations of human life and Judeo-Christian values.

The promoter is a male with the ironic name of Sam Killerman, who bills himself as a "social justice comedian." His anti-Christian bias is evident on the website. He's also written a book called, The Social Justice Advocate's Handbook: A Guide to Gender.

But who advocates for children messed up by this experimental garbage, those whose minds are sickened by what they learn via this poisoned cookie?

Teachers, it's time to take a stand and say NO to these child corrupters. Say NO to the training. Say NO in the media—report what's going on. Say NO to the National Education Association, and to your state and local teachers unions that also encourage this lunacy.

Parents, challenge any foolish school lessons and stay with the issue. School officials know that as children grow, parents tend to fade from involvement. So don't go away. You live there and pay taxes. Put a stop to the rotten "Genderbread Person" and its poisoning of children's souls.

Linda Harvey is the founder of MISSION: AMERICA, a non-profit organization that "cover(s) the latest cultural and social trends in our country and what they might mean for Christians." Her website is missionamerica.com.

Confused children need security, not more confusion and early sexualization. The "Genderbread" training goes beyond inserting fables into a child's head.

At Acalanes High School in California, the creepy cookie was a tool for Planned Parenthood representatives to indoctrinate students. Parents were furious, thank God. Some companies are even spreading this nonsense (in their "diversity training").

And the rationale? The same old diabolical excuse: the unfounded specter that realistic male and female identities are "unsafe" for kids and will cause some to attempt suicide.

Let's just grasp how idiotic that is: unless a teacher stops

Texas' Record Primary Election

March 1st was a record breaking Primary Election in Texas, especially on the Republican side. Results indicate that Republicans saw record high turnout and Democrats saw increased turnout compared to 2012, but significantly down from 2008. On the GOP side, more than 2.8 million Republican ballots were cast with Senator Ted Cruz securing the top spot in a crowded field. Democrats saw 1.4 million votes cast with Hillary Clinton defeating Bernie Sanders. The Dallas Morning News notes that "Cruz won in Texas across all kinds of demographics" and won evangelical voters and voters who wanted a candidate that "shares my values." Across the country, the presidential candidates continue to battle to gain their party's nomination. Down the ballot, with crowded fields in many races, several important races are now headed to a runoff. Texas' Primary Runoff Election is set for Tuesday, May 24, with early voting running May 16-20.

Texas Superintendents Approve Non-Transgender Rule

The leader of a sports ministry is applauding a rule passed by public school superintendents in Texas that requires student-athletes to provide a birth certificate to determine gender identification. The new rule, which passed on a 586-32 vote last month, will be implemented in August by the University Interscholastic League, the governing body for high school sports in Texas. Steve McConkey with 4 Winds Christian Athletes spoke about the superintendents' decision, which makes Texas one of seven states that require high school students to provide either a birth certificate, gender-reassignment surgery, or documentation of hormone therapy. "The transgender movement has been defeated in Texas in regards to this as the transgender movement seems to be encroaching in almost every state in the union," he offers. Transgender advocates condemned the move, saying it will force transgender students to amend their birth certificate, a laborious and costly process, in order to play.

Quote of the Month

"Don't let anyone tell you that we can't deport the people who came illegally or stayed in our country after their temporary visas expired. It's well documented that President Dwight Eisenhower peacefully removed at least 1 million illegal aliens in June 1954 and sent them back to Mexico, including many who got the message and left on their own."
